The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Deflation Tomorrow?

That was an interesting game of cat and mouse Mr. Nixon and Congress played Monday. Congress had announced that the $19.7 billion education and labor bill would be submitted to Mr. Nixon Wednesday. The President said he would veto it Thursday at a press conference beamed at voters across the nation.

But Congress slipped the document to Mr. Nixon Monday and Mr. Nixon rose to the occasion. He had his veto rationale and the networks ready. His explanation made sense.

Although he said that no student would suffer as the result of his veto, he knew that school districts would rise to the challenge and ask local taxpayers to make up the differential.

He mentioned the amount of aid given to the "wealthiest county." He meant San Diego. Mr. Nixon must know that federally owned land here is probably greater than any other county. Every foot of land owned by the government comes off the tax roll. That puts more tax on those who have to share the cost of local government. That is why local school districts, such as the Lemon Grove and Spring Valley districts, are entitled to federal "impact aid."

Almost immediately, districts will have to find ways to compensate for this loss. If the loss is made up by local property owners, the increase in property taxes, in Lemon Grove for example, will be about 35c to raise the local school tax to $3.52 for each $100.00 assessed valuation. Best guess is that the overage homeowner will pay about $15 a year more. The increase will replace the federal "impact" payment made to districts whose income suffers as the result of families being "federally connected".

The overriding explanation he used for the veto is that it will help stem inflation. Last year he made public his determination to take whatever steps necessary to "cool off the economy."

All of this indicates how greatly concerned the administration is regarding inflation. The cutbacks that have been announced in a determination to reduce government spending have withstood the pressures of individual congressmen and public demand, so there is a feeling that Mr. Nixon does not intend to weaken in this determination.

The Vietnam war, of course, is the fiscal luxury that caused galloping inflation. Experts say inflation could come under immediate control the day the war ends. As weary month after weary month of attempted negotiations fail, it becomes increasingly plain that the two other important economic forces that Mr. Nixon has averted facing, will have to be dealt with. These are wages and prices.

There are indications that the administration will deal with price controls before it deals with wages because the administration-union honeymoon is still warm.

Both prices and wages must level off before inflation can be controlled because every time there is a general wage increase there is a rise in the cost of living — and every time there is a rise in the cost of living, there is a union demand for more wages.

Perhaps Mr. Nixon knows that neither of these two controls will work. The black market during WWII and the foreign black markets in Korea and Vietnam have proved that anyone can get anything he wants under controlled prices, provided he knows the right people, and wants to pay the high price. But staple merchandise quickly disappears from the retail shelves when price controls are invoked.

If the economy is cooled and unemployment returns, as it is expected, the slackened demand for workers would level off rising wages. Workers, knowing wages were not going to rise, would buy fewer products. But wage controls mean little. In a recent San Diego building industries strike there were just as many journeymen available but they worked outside the union jurisdiction and at wages far higher than the union demanded scale.

Higher taxes, experts say, will not contribute to the inflationary spiral because that would help bring the budget into balance more quickly. A balanced budget and a leveled off economy go hand in hand, economists say.

These were some of the problems plaguing Mr. Nixon when he spoke to the nation Monday night.

Yet, he is making his determination felt step by small step. Dr. Ray Jallow, chief economist for the 200 offices of the United California Bank organization, told a gorup of San Diego bankers and investors Wednesday night at Atlantis restaurant, that interest rates will go no higher — that they will taper off slightly in the third quarter of 1970. He said that prices will rise again during the first two quarters of 1970, then level off. Prices he said, would be depressed as a mild recession sets in as the tail of the year approaches. He said the Gross National Product, presently ahead of the previous quarter, would develop a minus posture as 1970 ends.

Dr. Jallow's words should be heeded. Just a year ago he prognosticated almost exactly today's fiscal position and he hit the GNP total right on the head.

If Dr. Jallow's forecast is as accurate as it has been in the past, it appears the back of inflation is about to be broken.

Then, if the war should suddenly end, this country will be in for some of the greatest social, scientific and cultural advances ever known to man because the funds now going to inflation and war could be diverted to human improvement needs and still have some left over for the over-used taxpayer.

Dr. Adams 'Critical' After Heart Surgery

Dr. Lloyd Adams, who with his wife, Dr. Amorita Treganza, are long-term Lemon Grove and San Diego optometrists, is recovering in a local hospital following heart surgery. His condition is still listed as critical.

Dr. Adams collapsed Wednesday at his office at 7898 Broadway after attending some business details in the downtown Lemon Grove area.

He underwent three hours of heart surgery during which plastic tubes were implanted in the heart arteries.

The couple recently celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary as well as their 25th anniversary of their optometric practice together.

Dr. Adams is past president of the Downtown Optimist club and past district governor of the organization.

Dr. Treganza said that he could have no calls and no visitors but interested persons may call her at her office for information concerning his condition. The number is 463-0253.

CAT FANCIER — Jim Fitzgerald of Lemon Grove, vice-president of the San Diego Cat Fanciers, displays a pair of Manx cats he plans to enter in the Cat Fanciers 20th annual championship all-breed show Saturday and Sunday. The event is scheduled at the Community Concourse. Fitzgerald lives at 8295 Golden ave.

L.G. Planning Committee Promised Professional Help

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — The county planning commission agreed on Friday that staff assistance should be given to Lemon Grove citizens interested in forming a planning committee.

The commission asked the Board of Supervisors to authorize the planning staff to assist in the formation.

The move does not ensure staff participation in the planning effort, but there is no reason to believe this aid will be withheld once an active committee is formed.

The county policy is for the residents to take the lead in setting goals and patterns with the professional staff furnishing advice and existing land use data.

Each area picks its own name and selects its own method of operation. Generally, an executive committee is selected by election from the members of the open committee.

The executive committee does a great deal of work and its findings are put to the vote at general meetings which are called as often as is felt necessary.

Still undecided is whether Lemon Grove and Spring Valley along with the named communities such as Vista La Mesa, Casa de Oro, Brookside, and La Presa should be included in one mass planning effort, or whether two distinct but coordinated plans should be attempted.

Planning Director Dan Cherrier said it is extremely difficult to ascertain a distinct boundary between Lemon Grove and Spring Valley.

The staff was directed by the planning commission to continue its studies along this line.

Cherrier said rapid growth and pressure for conflicting land use patterns make a citizen-supported general plan a vital need in Lemon Grove.

On October 15 a public meeting was held at the L.G. Junior high school auditorium concerning local planning. More than 120 persons attended and it was indicated by about 75 per cent of these that a community plan should be developed.

At the time, Robert Kelsay, chief of Community Planning for the County was speaker. Al Woods, past president of the L.G. Chamber of Commerce was chairman of the get-together.

Woods said this week that letters would be sent to all clubs, groups and organizations calling for a meeting to consider taking the next step.

SDG&E Schedules February Refund

The San Diego Gas & Electric Company announced that it will refund $3,050,473 to gas, electric and steam customers next month.

The refund represents a flow-through of monies received by the company from its gas supplier, Southern Counties Gas Company, and stems from a Federal Power Commission rate ruling relating to El Paso Natural Gas Company and Transwestern Pipeline Company.

The San Diego Gas & Electric Company's refund plan was approved by the California Public Utilities Commission.

For the average residential customer having both gas and electric service, the refund will amount to $3.81.

The amount to be refunded to other customers will be based upon their usage of gas, electricity or steam.

The company said the refunds will be credited to bills mailed to customers starting February 6.

Students Hype Concern Walk

As a prelude to the scheduled "Walk for Mankind" Mt. Miguel High School is holding a "mini-walk" on Wednesday.

The Miguel walk will be held around the campus, with students scheduled to cover several miles, during lunch hour.

Mrs. Joseph Moreau (counselor at Mt. Miguel) may be reached for further information, 466-1280 (home) or 463-5551 (school).

Jim Day, a student at Mt. Miguel would like to attempt to roller-skate thru the "Walk" (or at least, finish a couple of miles on skates).

Sue Simonds, a student also at Mt. Miguel, has signed-up 74 sponsors (for herself) and is attempting to make it 100 before the "Walk."

Monte Vista High School, meanwhile, has scheduled a "Walk for Mankind" assembly the same day. The event is set for 10:30 a.m.

They plan to have Dr. James Turpin, the founder of Project Concern, at their assembly. Debbie Fehlberg, who has helped schedule the assembly, may be reached at 469-5973.

Ammons Revives Old Petition To Stall Palm St. Underground

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — County supervisors found themselves unable to act on proposal to form an underground utility district along Palm st. in Lemon Grove on Tuesday.

They were presented with a multi-name petition collected by Jackson Ammons, and although the validity of the petition was challenged, the board had no way of knowing how valid the petition was.

The board postponed action for two weeks, and in the interim will poll all of the property owners by mail to see what the feeling really is.

Edward L. Bickley told the supervisors that he had heard that Ammons had withdrawn his opposition.

However, County News Assn. telephoned Ammons after the meeting and found that this was not true.

Ammons said he is still opposed to the district. He had told Max Goodwin, publisher of this newspaper, after a public meeting in August, that he had been mistaken about the district and that he had no opposition to its formation. He told Goodwin, after Tuesday's board meeting that he owned no property on Palm st. and had no reason to oppose the project.

Palm was selected as a logical street for undergrounding because it is to be improved this year (fiscal 1969-70) to 64 feet of pavement that will provide four lanes of traveled way and two parking lanes.

The cost could be in the neighborhood of $250,000. Palm is to connect with the planned freeway parellel to Swettwater rd. and this function of a freeway collector is fixed by freeway interchange plans.

County policy on undergrounding gives top priority to projects where roads will be reconstructed.

Bickley and Dale Klabunde said the Ammons petition was circulated before a local meeting held on Aug. 13 and that a good deal of misinformation was given out. He asked the board to discount the petition.

Supervisors Harry Scheidle, who represents Lemon Grove, remarked that some of the people apparently had the fear of the unknown.

Scheidle then took up some 20 minutes of board time questioning whether the expense each property owner might be put to if his cost in underground his own private lines would force him to bring his whole residence up to code.

Bickley was finally able to break in to tell Scheidle and the rest of the board that at the Lemon Grove meeting a representative of the County Building Inspection Department had said that the inspection will only go to the meter boxes, and not involve code updating.

He said none of the structures had the old two-wire wiring that could have caused a problem.

The San Diego Gas and Electric Company will pay for the undergrounding in the public right of way and for the conduits and wiring to individual meter boxes under a Public Utilities Commission ruling.

The property owner will have to furnish the trench for the conduit and pay for undergrounding beyond the meter box.

However, the company will not pay for installation 150 feet from the centerline of the street, so some individuals might be hit at a much higher cost than the estimated average of less than $200.

County Engineer Howard Taylor said the inspection division is working on a flat fee for inspection that would be somewhere between $18 and $10.

5,000 Expected for Project Concern Walk

Reverend Bob Richards, national honorary chairman of Project Concern, "Happy Hare", a local disc jockey, and Helen Cobb, San Diego Councilman, will be among the expected 5,000 youngsters to "kick-off" Project Concern's 30-mile "Walk for Mankind" on February 7, from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Dr. William Herrick, who is the official first entry will also participate with the students representing the eight high schools in the Grossmont District and Grossmont College.

Registration for the "Walk" began at the schools on January 16, and will be open until the morning of the "Walk". Anyone interested in being a "walker" may contact Grossmont College, or Sacred Heart, Grossmont, El Cajon, Granite Hills, Monte Vista, Cantana, Helix, El Capitan, or Mt. Miguel High Schools.

The purpose of the "Walk" is to have registrants obtain sponsors who have agreed to pay a certain sum for each mile attained. The funds raised will benefit the building of a hospital in Tijuana and will also help provide medical supplies for the Navajo Indians in New Mexico.

NOTE . . . regardless of whether the fire call is true or false, the department must respond with men and equipment, and extra expense to the taxpayers, said a spokesman for the department.

Jan. 22, there were three calls: Firemen responded to a pickup truck wreck on Highway 94, east of Lemon Grove. The truck, driven by Robert Shoemaker of San Diego, blew a rear tire and the truck went over the bank, with Shoemak-

Otay Irrigation District Proposes Free Use of Spring Valley Sewers

By County News Assn.

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — The Otay Municipal Water District has proposed that it be allowed free use of the trunks and main outfall line of the Spring Valley Sanitation District.

The unexpected letter was received one day before the board of directors of the sanitation district, the County Board of Supervisors, held a conference on the Otay-Spring Valley situation.

Public Works Director David K. Speer declined to comment upon the Otay letter until it can be studied, but the letter ended the board conference on an inconclusive note.

Otay wants to use the Spring Valley lines for a "temporary" connection to the San Diego Metropolitan System ocean outfall for Calavo Gardens.

Warren A. Barney, director of county special district services, had proposed that the payment for capacity right be $92,950 for the outfall line to Metro and $68,700 for local trunks.

In addition, he proposed that each residential unit connected outside of Spring Valley pay an operational charge of $1.50 per month per unit.

Barney said Otay wants "something for nothing."

Even if the county would allow Otay's free connection, the people of Calavo Gardens would still pay, only under Otay's proposal the money would not help Spring Valley retire its bonds.

Instead, it would go to retire La Presa County Water District bonds that constructed the Jamacha trunk sewer that connected the large Bollenbacher and Kelton subdivision at La Presa to Spring Valley.

The temporary Calavo connection would be through this line, Otay said. Otay claims it owns this trunk as the successor to the La Presa, even though the trunk has been accepted by Spring Valley for operation and maintenance.

Otay says it should receive a credit for the La Presa line to offset the cost of the Spring Valley capacity rights.

What interest the taxpayers of Spring Valley have in serving beyond the boundaries of their district when that service will not pay its fair share on bonded indebtedness and operation is not explained.

Glenn Reiter, a manager of Otay, said the new owners of the Monte Vista Ranch, Rancho San Diego Corporation, and the Union Oil Co. have developed plans that are causing Otay to consider construction of a large trunk south of Sweetwater Lake to the main outfall line of Spring Valley.

Reiter claims that La Presa residents are paying a double tax by retiring the La Presa bonds by water rate charges and a tax for retiring general obligation bonds used to construct lines in Casa de Oro and north Spring Valley that are of no benefit to La Presa.

However, it is probable that most of the general obligation bond payments of Spring Valley are going toward repayment of the outfall line.

Connection fees to the local trunks have probably already offset those costs.

The interrelationship between Spring Valley, Otay and La Presa may take the county some time to unravel.

Vista La Mesa To Journey to Unknown

"With the start of a new year Vista La Mesa PTA will venture into the unknown making three discoveries at an unusual and exciting program entitled "Discovery," Mrs. William Talbot , VLM PTA president said.

The launching pad and time for this project are VLM School Moon Crater on February 5, at 1930 Orbital Time.

The first object will be to learn about the "Parent Effectiveness Training" program to be presented by Dan O'Rourke, School Psychologist for Oceanside Union Elementary District.

A panel of Oceanside parents, who participated in this successful program, will accompany O'Rourke in the presentation of the program to the unit.

The second discovery on this trip will be the surprise awarding of the Honorary Service Award. It is awarded annually to someone who has been outstanding in their work with youth in the community.

And the last but not least is the third object on the itinerary of this project, which is to discover the musical abilities of "The Contemporaries."

This group from the First Baptist Church of Lemon Grove is under the direction of Bill Hawes and has traveled throughout the United States presenting musical programs.

Host and Hostesses for the "Discovery's" launch will be teachers John Smits, Mrs. Jeannie Rhoads, Miss Patt Morrison, Miss Geraldine Nack and room mothers Mmes.: Richard Knapp, Al Pirie, William Oyos, William Howell, Chris Fogleman, Thomas Oswalt, Plin Haerter and Vern Aaker.

PALM JR. HIGH

The executive board of the Palm Jr. High School PTA will hold its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday Feb. 3, at 7:30 p.m.

Among the many items to be discussed will be the PTA sponsored bus trip to Disneyland. The trip will take place on Thursday February 12.

Transportation will be by charter buses leaving the school at 8 a.m. and returning at approximately 7:30 p.m.

Adult chaperones will be provided by the PTA. Bus fare must be paid the week of February 2-6. Parents will be notified when and how the money must be paid.

This bus trip has been held for the past several years, and has always proved very successful. All youngsters are urged to participate if at all possible.

Another item on the agenda to be discussed, is the purchase of a few items by the PTA to fix up the teachers lounge so that it will be more comfortable for the teaching staff.

Cat Show Scheduled

More than 150 ribbons, 220 special rosettes and over 200 trophies will be awarded to feline friends Saturday and Sunday, February 7 and 8, at the College Grove Community Center.

The show is presented by the Cabrillo and Carousel Cat Clubs with assistance coming from internationally known judges Edward Bowers and George Silva of the United Cat Federation.

Plain old family tabbies will have an opportunity to mix with the feline elite at the show, reports Bowers. Competition will include every major breed of cat. In addition to such well known aristocrats as Siamese and Persians, visitors will see Burmese, Abyssinians, Russian Blues, Havanas, Rex, Manx and American Shorthairs.

The class expected to attract the most attention, however, is the Kittens and Household Pets Category, open to everyone who owns "just a cat," whether male, female, spay or neuter. Bowers reports there are quite a few local cats entered in the Household Pet Class at the close of entries.

Five outstanding judges will officiate at the Quad Championship All-American Scored Show: Mary Snyder of Redondo Beach; Mickie Catalana of San Jose; Eileen Lydick of Los Angeles; Juliana Ford of Los Angeles and Eva Lydick of Los Angeles also. Each is an authority of cat breeds and standards.

Judging will start at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, February 7 and continue til 6 p.m. The judging on Sunday will start at 10 a.m. and continue til 6 p.m.

Bureau Helps Miguel Students

How does a student train for the job he desires, if the course is not offered at his high school?

One answer is through Volunteer Work. There are many students, working in a variety of different areas that are receiving the training they need through the Volunteer Work Program.

Agencies involved in this program are the American Cancer Society, the American Red Cross, Camp Fire Girls, Boys' Club of San Diego, National Foundation—March of Dimes, Neighborhood House Association, Sharp Memorial Community Hospital, Smoking Research of San Diego, the Speech and Hearing Center, and many others.

If you are interested in a certain organization, and don't know if they need volunteer workers, or if they are involved in the program, call the Volunteer Bureau at 234-2071.

Jobs included in this program range from cleanup jobs for men to typing and clerical work. This is an experience program and students involved are not paid for their services, but they can use their Volunteer Work as references for future jobs.

Disaster Insurance Payments Scheduled

Individuals who became unemployed due to two "major disasters" in early January and March 1969 may be eligible for Disaster Unemployment Assistance, according to Mrs. Berdena Patterson, manager of the unemployment insurance office of the California Department of Human Resources Development.

Availability of the federal funds was made known December 24 in an announcement by Governor Ronald Reagan, and results from the Disaster Relief Act of 1969 which provides for payment of unemployment assistance "to any individual unemployed as a result of a major disaster."

The payments are restricted to unemployment resulting from two declared "major disasters": the heavy January 1969 rains which affected 37 counties and the March 1969 flooding in Kings County.

Statewide, $28 million is expected to be paid out to 90,000 persons who will receive a minimum of $51 weekly for an estimated average of six weeks. The funds will be paid out over a period of two to three months, Mrs. Patterson said.

Applications for the disaster assistance may be made at 133 E. Park, El Cajon, or any other unemployment insurance office in the State before February 24.

Those eligible will include some persons not now eligible for unemployment insurance payments (such as farm workers, government workers — city, county, or state; and some self-employed).

Disability Tax Soon Due

Monday, February 2, is the deadline date for filing a contribution return and report of disability insurance wages, form DE 7003, for the fourth quarter of 1969, for the State Department of Human Resources Development in San Diego. Employers of agricultural employees and nonprofit or district hospital employees are liable.

Penalty and interest will be charged if the report is filed after the deadline.

Sea World Sets Record

Paid attendance during 1969 at Sea World topped the million mark by more than 450,000 in a record year.

The marine park on Mission Bay attracted 1,455,006 persons in paid attendance. This was an increase of 46,857 persons over the 1968 period.

This does not include more than 100,000 youngsters under the age of 5 who were admitted free.

Nor does it include nearly 18,500 persons who attended special night events which include show performances. The night events, sponsored by groups and organizations, represent paid attendance on a reduced rate schedule.

The park opened on March 21, 1964.

Monarchs Get Another Chance At Santana

It's now or never for Monte Vista High's basketball team.

Time for a remedy for an old headache. Source of the pain is Santana, a troublesome team which handed the Monarchs an unexpected defeat January 9.

Here's the situation: The Monarchs, very likely the best team in San Diego county after Helix, must place first or second in Grossmont League standings to earn a spot in post-season playoffs.

After giving Helix a scare (67-61) in a game nobody really expected Monte Vista to win, the Monarchs proceeded to drop their second contest to a hungry Santana bunch by a single point.

Down, 0-2, they've been playing catch-up ball ever since. And doing very well at it. And if they're ever to pull even, now's the time.

Santana played Helix Tuesday in a game nobody expected the Sultans to win, while Monte Vista was scheduled to feast on their weak Mt. Miguel rivals. That should be enough to bring the Monarchs within a game of the Sultans.

They can pull closer Tuesday, when they host the upstart Sultans. It's a do-or-die proposition, with each team having a remaining game with Helix.

First, though, the Monarchs will visit Helix tomorrow night. Monte Vista is the last team, in fact, to beat Helix, and they accomplished it a year ago. They're also the team which has played Helix to the closest finish this season.

Meanwhile, the Monarchs have been taking care of business with a 90-57 win over basement dweller Granite Hills Friday night.

It was their fourth straight win since the Santana loss, and left their season mark at 15-4.

Granite Hills, 0-6 in league play and 2-14 for the season, didn't really have much chance. The Eagles were playing without high-scoring guard Tim Doerr, for one thing. Doerr represents much of an otherwise paltry offense.

The Monarchs blitzed the Eagles to the tune of 23-7 for the first eight minutes, and moved to a 49-25 lead by halftime.

Coach Felix Rogers inserted all his reserves, but the benchmen came through as every player scored at least four points.

Bill Belander scored 17 points, tops for the winners. He's scoring at a 23.0 rate in six league games.

MARKSMAN — Monte Vista's Bill Belander zeroes in on hoop in recent court action. Belander has scored 121 in the first five league games, a 24.2 average. The rebounding Monarchs will face the league-leaders, Helix, in an 8 p.m. clash tomorrow night.

Bobby Sox To Register

The Jamacha Hills Bobby Sox Softball League will hold registration Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Spring Valley Shopping Center.

Registration will also be accepted February 7 and 14 at the same time and place. All girls, age 9 thru 14, who wish to play softball this season are urged to come and sign up on one of these dates.

Each girl should bring one of her parents or her guardian, and also her birth certificate. Registration fees are $5 per girl, or $7 for 2 sisters and $8 for 3 sisters.

The Jamacha Hills League is a new league which has been formed from part of the Spring Valley League.

Its boundaries include La Presa, east of Sweetwater rd., the south and east slopes of Dictionary Hill, Casa de Oro, south of Campo rd., and the Edgewater and Carriage Hills sections.

A general meeting for all parents and interested persons will be held Tuesday, February 10, at 7:30 p.m. in the Multipurpose Room of the Kempton Elementary School, 740 Kempton st.

League officers are: Marilyn Jarman, president; Joan Cooper, vice president; Gerry Lynch, secretary; Jerry Mastro, treasurer; Harold Cooper, players' agent; Ken Wright, umpire-in-chief; and Aileen Tremblay, finance chairman.

Registrations will also be accepted at this time. The League needs a great deal of help in the form of volunteers for board positions, committee chairmen, managers coaches, chaperones, and boosters.

Anyone who is interested in helping in any way is urged to come to the meeting or to contact one of the board members. For further information, call Mrs. Jarman at 469-7779 or Mr. Cooper at 469-8039.

Wrestling Meet Set

Junior Wrestling Championships of San Diego City and County will be conducted by the San Diego Junior Wrestling Association and Recreation Department on Jan. 31 at 10 a.m. at Helix High School Gym.

Eligibility is limited to boys in the ninth grade or under. Entry blanks, available at playgrounds and schools, must be turned in at the weigh-in prior to the matches between 8 and 9 a.m.

Each participant must wear shorts or bermudas and shoes and socks. High school wrestling rules will prevail. Medals will be awarded to the first three place winners in each of 18 weight divisions.

Badminton Meet Set

Stan Hales, the nation's number one ranked badminton player, and La Mesa's Rod Starkey, who has defeated him in recent tournaments, will head entries for the 18th annual Dr. Dave Freeman Badminton Championships on Feb. 6, 7 and 8 in Balboa Park's Federal Building.

Hales, of Los Angeles, reached the quarter-finals of a 1969 National Championships dominated by foreign players, thus earning his top ranking over Starkey, named number two.

But Starkey's recent wins have put him ahead of Hales on the Thomas Cup International team due to meet Mexico here at the end of February.

Other entries will include former San Diegan, Joe Alston, now of Pasadena, who ranked third in the nation in doubles with his home town partner, Wynn Rogers. Alston is a former National Champion and top-ranked American in badminton.

HIGH JINX — Helix center Bill Walton's actual height is a closely-kept secret, but a fair indication is shown here as the Highlander pivot stretches a foot over Mt. Miguel's John Slater, listed as 6-3. Walton poured in 41 points as Helix walked away to 93-61 win.

INTIMIDATION — This is what happens when opponents know Helix' Bill Walton (dark, 33) is behind them. Mt. Miguel's Gary Russ drives to the basket only to be distracted by Walton's seven-foot presence and loses the ball out of bounds. Mike Honz is 22.

Gulls Home Sat. For Single Game

The San Diego Gulls close out a busy stretch of four games in five nights by playing a home-and-home series with the Phoenix Roadrunners tomorrow and Saturday.

Tomorrow night's game will be in Phoenix and the teams will return to the Sports Arena Saturday night for an 8 o'clock game.

The Gulls opened the four-game stretch by hosting the Portland Buckaroos Tuesday night at the Sports Arena and playing the Golden Eagles in Salt Lake City last night.

Following the game against the Roadrunners Saturday night, the Gulls head north again to face Vancouver, Portland and Seattle next week. They will be in Vancouver Tuesday night and Portland the following evening.

The two games against Phoenix are important ones for the Gulls. San Diego started this week's activity in fourth place, five points back of third-place Seattle. The Gulls had five games in hand on Seattle, however, and will use up two of them this week.

Walton Leads Scots, 93-61, Over Matadors

Helix' basketball team was given bruising treatment Friday night, but it didn't affect the score as the Highlanders eased to a 93-61 win over an outclassed Mt. Miguel team.

Bill Walton, the Scots' seven-foot center, was banged around under the basket by Miguel defenders, but still managed a 41-point output, his best in league action so far.

The outburst leaves Walton's league average at 27.8, with 167 points in 6 games.

Helix, of course, extended their new county record for consecutive wins to 37, racked up a 6-0 league mark, and is now 21-0 for the season.

The Matadors, the very team that held the consecutive wins record (set two years ago) continues to have a hard time in this, a rebuilding year. They've recorded a 1-5 league mark and are 2-14 for the season.

Helix has company at the top, however. It's Santana, who also claim a 6-0 mark. And Monte Vista is rebounding fast after a pair of losses marred their league debut.

The outcome of the game was never much in doubt after Helix bounded to a 22-11 lead after the first quarter and increased it to 44-28 at intermission.

Helix' standout guard Mike Dupree suffered a bruised hip in a pileup, but the Helix attack was never headed and piled up 97 points in what coach Gordon Nash termed a sub-par effort.

Dupree ended with 14 points, while teammates Randy Madsen, with 12, and Dan Coleman, with 10, also broke into double figures. Mike Honz had eight.

John Slater, Miguel's all-league candidate, put in 21 points for the youthful Matadors, while Tom Young had 14 and Mark Ricketts 11. Slater and Young are juniors, who are improving fast. Slater is averaging 20.8 points per game in league play.

Walton's 41 points was his third flurry over 40 this season.

Rockets To Face Sonics and Suns

The San Diego Rockets face two crucial tests this week in their bid for a western division playoff spot when they meet the Seattle SuperSonics Friday night, and the Phoenix Suns on Sunday, at San Diego Sports Arena.

Game time is 8 p.m. for the Seattle contest while the Phoenix encounter is set for 7 p.m.

Both the Sonics and the Suns are termed "teams to beat" in a tight western division race where the top four spots are up for grabs by any of the division's seven teams.

The Rockets look toward a lengthy homestand to strengthen their position as they play seven of their next eight games at the Arena.

Against Seattle this season the Rockets hold a 2-1 edge in the series, defeating the Sonics twice in San Diego, 148-112, on Nov. 14; and 112-105, on Nov. 24, while losing in Seattle 112-96, on December 21.

CHUCKIN' SPORTS

A Sports Pot Pourri

By Chuck Curtis

Recently I took the San Diego Gulls to task for not playing a more aggressive game.

I admitted that I am a novice at the sport of ice hockey. In fact I have watched little hockey in the last 20 years. Prior to that, as a youth, it was my pleasure to see many games played in New York City. I saw the New York Rangers face the greatest teams, teams from Montreal, Boston, Detroit and all the other fine representatives of the National Hockey League.

Thinking that there was a chance that I was being unfair to Max McNab and the Gulls, I made it a point to watch the televised game between the Philadelphia Flyers and the St. Louis Blues.

For the first time this season the Philadelphia team took the win, 2-0.

I watched carefully and found I had been correct in my assertion that our Gulls do not play as rough as other teams.

The televised game was a real thriller. There was a great deal of hip checking, body checking, stick checking and other all-out efforts. The minute the puck changed hands the team giving it up would begin the battle to regain it. This fast and furious action went on from the beginning of play until the game ended, without let up.

It is simple to point out a fact as obvious as this, but perhaps a lot harder to find a remedy.

I am certain a manager as astute as Max McNab must be conscious of this short coming on the part of his team. The question is, what is he going to do about it?

Over in the Grossmont League it should be all over but the shouting. The mighty Helix High basketball team should have walked off with all the marbles.

Last week they polished off the Mount Miguel Matadors for win number 37 and did so in convincing fashion, 93-61. The win made their league record for this season 6-0. Santana High is also 6-0 in Grossmont League play, but it is doubtful if anyone, even Santana, feels they have a chance. By the time this comes out, the problem will have been resolved. This is being written Sunday and the Helix-Santana clash is set for Tuesday night.

In posting their win over Mount Miguel, the Scots showed that, with any average center Helix would still have a reasonably good team.

Against the Matadors three other players, besides Spider Bill Walton, scored in double figures. Mike Dupree hit for 14 points, Randy Madsen for 12 and Dan Coleman for 10. Still the big show was Walton as he poured in 41 points.

The 41-point spree raised his season total to 616 points, just 158 short of the county season record set last year by Wilburn Strong. In addition to his high scoring, Bill has dominated board play for the Scots and has been a tower of strength on defense, blocking shots and intimidating the opposition.

Well, it happened again. One of those fantastic decisions this old editor is at a total loss to understand.

I was watching the NBA All-Star Basketball game. The East won, but that isn't the problem.

The east used three centers, Willis Reed, Lew Alcindor and a third, whose name escapes me. It took the three of them to face Elvin Hayes. When the game was over Reed and Alcindor had fouled out. Hayes had outscored each of them, out rebounded each of them and blocked the most shots.

Came the end of the game and, lo and behold, Willis Reed, in spite of having fouled out early in the fourth period, was named most valuable player of the game.

Guess I'm just dumb, but it looked to me like the Big E deserved the Most Valuable Player award over Reed.

As for Alcindor, it was the seventh time this season the big Buck center has fouled out. Lew has learned fast that playing professional basketball is no Ladies Aid Society Tea.

The big boys play rough and Lew has moved in and made himself a spot among the greats.

It has finally happened. Sunday I had just finished watching the taped highlights of the NFL All-Star football game and I turned on the radio while fixing dinner. To my amazement I listened to the first of a series of announcements about —you probably guessed—the coming baseball season. KOGO has a series of announcements about Duke Snider, Jerry Gross and Frank Sims returning for the second exciting year of major league baseball for the San Diego Padres.

Frankly I am surprised that this is the first we have heard. I would have expected monthly reports on the activities of our Padres playing in the various summer leagues. I guess Buzzie Bavasi and company just took a nice long summer vacation.

Anyway, February is almost here and that will mean spring training at Yuma and lots of promising press releases.

We look forward to an exciting season with our fledgling Padres putting out a far better showing than last season.

Pins Win Matadors Mat Meet

Mt. Miguel's wrestling team served notice Friday night that they have serious intentions about the Grossmont League mat title.

The Matadors downed unbeaten Helix, 25-22, in a thrilling, come-from-behind finish.

Down, 22-15, with two weight classes left, the Matadors needed a win and a pin from their 193-pounder Don Jackson and heavyweight Billy Joe Winchester.

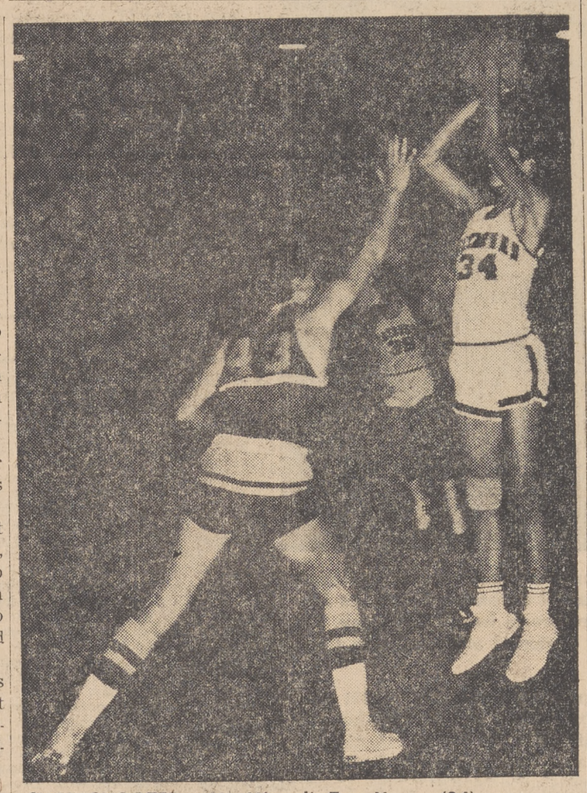
Jackson and Winchester both pinned their opponents to win the meet.

Miguel's Greg Robinson, at 167 pounds, was upset earlier, when he took a 9-0 lead into the final minute of his match with Jess Castro. Castro caught Robinson off guard and pinned him in 5:17.

Another notable victory was Miguel's Freddie Taylor's at 112-pounds. Taylor beat longtime nemesis Tim Schaffer, 8-4.

In other league matches, Monte Vista's grapplers blitzed Granite Hills, 50-5. The Eagles won only the 114-pound class.

El Cajon kept their title hopes alive by squeezing out a 22-21 win over Santana.



SHARPSHOOTER — Mt. Miguel's Tom Young (34) goes over the reach of Grossmont's 6-5 Mike Thornell for a short jumper. Young and his Matador teammates will host El Capitan for an 8 p.m. struggle tomorrow night.

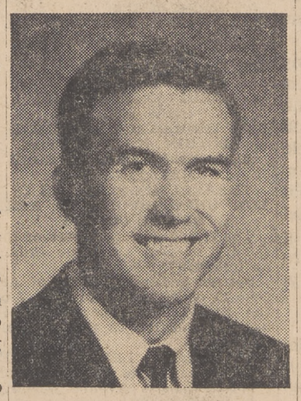
Stan Davies Is New Monarch Grid Coach

Stan Davies, currently assistant football coach, has been named Head Football Coach at Monte Vista High School for 1970. Davies succeeds Pat Carroll, who is leaving coaching for a counseling position at Grossmont High School this spring.



STAN DAVIES

Principal Robert C. Brady, in announcing the change, said, "We are terribly sorry to lose Pat Carroll; he has done an excellent job in his one season with us and we would have been most happy to keep him and his entire staff intact, at least for another season, as I think our football program is on the right track.

"However, we wish him well in his new position. We are fortunate to have a man already on the staff who is fully qualified, ready, willing, and able to step in and assume the head coaching position.

"I have every confidence in Stan Davies, not only as a highly competent coach, but as an all-around excellent professional man and outstanding personal example for our students."

A graduate of Helix High School, Stan Davies earned all-league honors in football in 1952 and 1953. He holds a B.A. degree from Pomona College and an M.A. degree from California Western University.

He has also done graduate work at George Washington University, San Diego State College, and has studied three summers at Oregon State University under a National Science Foundation grant.

Shaw Goes To Buffalo

San Diego State's Dennis Shaw, as advertised, went early when the pro football draft got underway Tuesday.

Shaw was drafted in the second round by Buffalo, a team with quarterback problems.

With the Bills, Shaw will join another honored SDS product, flanker Haven Moses. USC's heralded O. J. Simpson also wears Buffalo colors.

First draft choice of the draft was Louisiana Tech's Terry Bradshaw, picked by Pittsburgh.

The San Diego Chargers, in the first round, picked wide receiver Walker Gillette, a 6-5, 200-pounder with speed.

Otay Lake Opens Soon

City Lakes Recreation Superintendent Orville Ball announced opening of Lake Otay, home of the now famous Florida bass, on Wednesday, February 11. It will operate on weekends, holidays and Wednesdays.

Otay lake attracted national attention last year when it produced 11 Florida bass exceeding 10¼ pounds during the first six weeks of spring fishing. That weight had stood as the record catch for San Diego County from 1890 to 1965.

A 17-pound Florida bass was scooped from Otay last year. Fishermen reported over 70 catches of this fish exceeding over seven pounds. Ball estimates at least an equal amount were lost by unwary anglers using tackle and line that were too light.

"Maybe some angler will become a celebrity this year by breaking the national bass record of 22 pounds," Ball said.

Greeting the expected huge opening-day turnout will be a larger lake (600 surface acres), 100 rental boats and a reduced fee of 2 for private boat launchings. Boat reservations may be made on (714) 460-2944.

Otay also has bluegill, crappie, bullhead catfish and white catfish, Ball added.

Lower Otay County Park, adjacent to the lake, has full provisions for overnight camping and picnicking. The park and lake are located some eight miles east of Chula Vista via Telegraph Canyon road. Easiest access is via the "L" Street turnoff from Interstate Highway 5.

Griff Coach Tours Europe

Ron Vavra, head track coach at Grossmont College the past five years, has announced his plans to take an extended trip to Europe starting February 5, and will be on sabbatical leave the 1970 spring semester.

"This is an opportunity of a lifetime," said Vavra, who will visit with and study the methods of track coaches from Greece, West Germany, Spain, England, and several other European countries.

In his absence, Bob Larsen, cross country coach for Grossmont, will take over duties as head track coach for the 1970 season.

"I wouldn't be leaving if we didn't have people like Larsen and (Jack) Mashin to take over," said Vavra.

Coach Vavra led Grossmont to one track championship and four second place finishes in five seasons, and coached the cross country to a State Championship in 1965.

Vavra, his wife Gale, and their three children, Mark age 10, Kurt age 8, and Jay age 5, will fly to New London Connecticut February 5, to meet Ed Tucker, a former coach at the Coast Guard Academy.

After his tour of Europe and stay in Spain, Vavra plans to return to the United States sometime this summer and will resume his position at Grossmont in September.

Grove Missionary Returns To Peru

Missionary-teacher Dorothy Sandfort was recently in town for a short visit, leaving Monday to return to Peru.

Miss Sandfort, whose mother, Mrs. Carl Sandfort, lives at 8027 Darryl st. in Lemon Grove, was home for a holiday visit.

A teacher and missionary, she has been serving in the South American country for more than 20 years.

A native of Nebraska, she graduated from the University of Nebraska and later did theological work at Scarritt College in Nashville, Tenn.

In 1948, she decided she would like to travel. Always fascinated with South American countries, she picked Peru.

"It was a young country," she says, "and I thought I thought I could help it grow."

She taught English at first and now works in a hostel for university students in Lima.

Her experience has always been classroom teaching and always in Lima.

She says the educational system there is comparable to the United States, but that it is overcrowded.

Often, education isn't available to children, because families may be in remote locations.

DOROTHY SANDFORT

Since a military takeover of the country, a year ago last October, she thinks improvements have been made in the system.

"We've had some needed reforms," she says.

A Catholic country, the climate has become friendlier recently for Miss Sandfort, a Methodist.

"Catholics everywhere are looking more favorably on Protestantism," she says, "and this is true in Peru."

Culturally, she says, the Peruvians lack for little.

"The people there have a rich culture," she said. "They have concerts and art. Probably the weakest point in the whole country is industrialization, especially science."

She says Lima's climate is comparable to San Diego, with one major difference. The seasons, as everywhere in the southern hemisphere, are reversed.

So, while she was at home enjoying Christmas with her family (a sister, Mrs. Donald Johnson, lives on Debco dr.) her students were off on summer vacation travels.

Valley Girl Is Redlands Choir Member

Sharon Smith of Spring Valley is a member of the 45-voice University of Redlands Concert Choir which begins its annual mid-winter tour February 4.

The Concert Choir, conducted by Erwin Ruff, professor of voice, will appear in 12 communities. The five-day tour includes morning and afternoon performances before high school assemblies and formal evening concerts at churches, open to the public.

Communities to be visited are Lancaster, Bakersville, Selma, Madera, Turlock, Sunnyvale, Mountain View, Milpitis, San Carlos, Richmond, San Jose, and San Luis Obispo.

U.S. National Promotes Lipton

Lew Lipton, prominent in local business, civic and social circles since 1914, has been promoted to senior vice president at United States National Bank, it was announced by C. A. Arnholt Smith, president and chairman of the 55-office bank.

Lipton, 66, heads the Business Development Division of the bank's Marketing Department. He joined the bank in 1962 as an assistant vice president and was promoted to vice president in 1965.

Prior to joining United States National, Lipton was active in the restaurant business in San Diego.

Lipton's social and civic activities include the San Diego City Civil Service Board, of which he is a commissioner; vice president, California Theatre Employees Association; chairman, Appeals Board, Selective Service Board in San Diego; director, Del Mar Fair Board; member, United States Army Recruiting Service; member, U. S. Rehabilitation, Inc.; and membership in the San Diego Chapter, Navy League of the United States; Elks, Eagles, Shriners and Masons.

Also, B'nai B'rith, Henry Weinberger Lodge; and member, Sheltered Workshops, Inc.; Guardians; and past director, State Western Fairs Association.

He also is vice president of the San Diego Padres baseball club.

Area Girl Returns from Argentina

A Lemon Grove girl returned last week from Argentina where she studied in an Argentine school and lived with and became part of an Argentine family.

Cheryl Mosteller was selected as an exchange student as part of the Americans Abroad Program sponsored by the American Field Service. This program annually sends over 1,400 teens to 44 countries.

Cheryl lived in the city of Salta, capital of the province of Salta, on the northeast edge of the Andes.

She attended a preparatory school with a system similar to the modular system. She had 10 subjects — but these were varied each day and school hours were 8 a.m. to noon.

Cheryl also did volunteer work with a polio organization called Alpi, which worked with children who had polio or another muscular disease.

Mr. and Mrs. Kallin, her parents and her sister, Maria, were affectionate and concerned that Cheryl felt a real part of their family.

Cheryl's fondest memories are of the large family of aunts, uncles and cousins, their warmth and joy in living.

She misses them but her sister, Maria, is an A.F.S. student living in Santa Clara and will hopefully be spending Easter vacation with Cheryl and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mosteller of 2110 Main st., Lemon Grove.

During her year abroad Cheryl missed her parents and her church associations at the United Methodist Church, Lemon Grove, most of all.

Zappa To Headline Five-act Rock Show

A variety rock show is scheduled for the San Diego Sports Arena, Sunday, February 8.

Five groups are scheduled to appear in a slated five-hour concert with unreserved seating.

Headlining the music will be Frank Zappa and his Hot Rats, and It's A Beautiful Day.

Also scheduled is Love, Sweetwater and San Diego's Penrod.

Still more is scheduled, with the showing of the 70-minute, 16-millimeter color film of the Cream's last performance in London's Royal Albert Hall.

Zappa and the Rats are a new organization, but Zappa is notorious (and/or famous) for his freaked-out "Mothers of Invention." It remains to be seen what musical direction Zappa will take now, but his right-on-target iconoclasm is sure to be a primary element.

Beautiful Day is a San Francisco group and blends an electric violin sound into the usual rock instrumentation.

Leader David LaFlamme, the violinist, can play anything, and take the band with him. The group is enjoying the popular reception of their first album and a single, "White Bird." Mellow on record, the group can be deafening in person.

Love is a Los Angeles group, featuring a frantic, fast-driving music. The group has been through a number of changes, but leader Arthur Lee's personality persists in shaping their content.

Sweetwater features feminine voices to combine for a sometimes folky-country sound.

Penrod is receiving a lot of local air play with a cut called "Junkie John" and has been playing the area folk and rock scenes for years.

Ticket sales begin Saturday for the event. The tickets are $3.75 and are sold in advance at the Sports Arena Box Office only.

College Screens Two Marx Films Tonight

Grossmont College will conclude its Classic Comedy series with two films featuring the four Marx Brothers when "At the Circus" and "Horse Feathers" are screened at 3:30 and 7 p.m., tonight in the Fine Arts Lecture Hall.

A circus provides the background for some of the Marx Brothers' best gags. In "At the Circus" a strong man's assistant, a night watchman, and a lawyer save the funds of a circus owner from a band of crooks.

Majestic Margaret Dumont becomes a human projectile, shot from a circus cannon in a demented scene. The film's songs include Groucho's noted "Lydia, the Tattooed Lady." In addition to the Marx Brothers and Margaret Dumont, "At the Circus" features Eva Arden, Kenny Baker, Florence Rice and Nat Pendleton.

"Horse Feathers," another of the riotous Marx Brothers' comedy classics, features Groucho as the dean of a small college where Harpo and Chico are mistakenly recruited as football players for the college team.

In this display of their special talent and humor, the Marx Brothers win a college yell of roaring approval as they clown with coeds, pester the professors, caper over the campus while turning a championship football game into a rollicking riot. One of the funniest films ever produced, "Horse Feathers" epitomizes the great Marx Brothers at their best.

The public is invited to the last film presentation in the Classic Comedy Series. Doors will open at 3 and 6:30 p.m. There is no admission charge.

The Tournee of Animation is a collection of 19 outstanding animated films from around the world.

The films in the program, gathered from nine different countries, represent the most advanced and imaginative techniques now being used in animation.

Though all the films are animated, the individual film makers have used a complete spectrum of styles.

Highlights of the program include:

"K-9000: A Space Oddity" by Robert Mitchell and Robert Swarthe, a delightful and inventive satire of Stanley Kubrick's "2001" done in a style similar to "Yellow Submarine."

"The Charge of The Light Brigade" in which 19th century political engravings are brought to life by Richard Williams.

"Binary Bit Patterns" computer animation by Michael Whitney.

"Les Corbeaux" by Ernest and Giselle Ansorge, made of carbon dust.

For five of the films, The Tournee represents the United States premieres, and for two the world premieres.

The entire program lasts 120 minutes and will be shown twice nightly at 7 and 9:15

Lemon Grove Recruit Carries On Family's Marine Corps Tradition

Military tradition is important to men of all services, but to Navy Hospital Corpsman First Class John Treul of Lemon Grove, his sons, Jay and Bryan, Marine Corps tradition has become the family way of life.

John Treul is a "Marine" Hospital Corpsman now stationed at the Marine Corps Air Station, El Toro, Calif. His son, Jay, recently completed four years with the Marine Corps, and January 14, his son Bryan, began a four-year tour as a Marine.

Upon Bryan's graduation, the family joined together, all proud of their participation in the Marine Corps.

"Bryan has been with me at various Marine bases everywhere, and all of his life, all I have heard is, 'I want to join the Marine Corps,'" HM1 Treul stated proudly.

"I think he is going to make a fine Marine and, in my opinion, it is one of the greatest fighting forces in the world today."

HM1 Treul served with the Marine Corps for 22 years. During his tour, he was awarded the Navy Cross, the nation's second highest decoration for combat valor; four Purple Heart Medals; and the Navy Commendation Medal with Combat "V", which he wears along with some 14 other service ribbons.

Pvt. Treul had several reasons for joining the Marine Corps. "Being very proud of my father and brother, Jay, (who was released from the Marine Corps last February as a corporal) is my main reason for joining. I want to make them as proud of me as I am of them," stated Pvt. Treul.

When asked if his father preferred that he join the Marine Corps, he replied, "My father said the Marine Corps would make a man out of me."

Pvt. Treul worked for a motorcycle shop as a mechanic prior to joining the Marine Corps at the age of 17.

He hopes to continue his education and at least get his high school diploma while in the Marine Corps.

When asked if he had any preference on a job assignment in the Marine Corps, Pvt. Treul replied, "Yes, I did real well on my test as far as electronics are concerned, and I hope they send me to radio electronics school."

When asked his opinion of the rigorous training which he had just completed, he said, "It is not as hard as my brother Jay told me it would be, but he did give me a few pointers.

"I studied the Code of Conduct, rank structure, and my General Orders before I joined. This sure did help me a lot."

"I liked the physical fitness part best," Pvt. Treul said. "I made a total of 461 points on the final test out of a possible 500 points.

"I finished the Commandant's Marine Corps Physical Readiness Test with a 465 out of a 500 possible, and I passed the Basic Military subjects test with a 98 out of a possible 100.

"On the Practical Examination, which covers first aid and various other subjects, I made a perfect score."

Pvt. Treul's other brother, Donald, 18, and Donald's fiancee, Diane Lewis, also 18, both plan to join the Air Force later this month. The Treul family now resides at 8019 Ray street.

Waring Band To Preview Next Century

Fred Waring's musical essay into the Twenty-first Century, comes to the San Diego Civic Theatre on Sunday, March 1. Tickets are at the Civic Theatre box office and all agencies.

This spectacular new show features Fred Waring's conception of the music of the future in addition to the familiar classics, Broadway show numbers, popular music and the latest novelty tunes.

Always the innovator, Waring's projection of the music of the next half-century will attract the interest of both audiences and musicians and stimulate speculation about the trends in music of the future.

The entire musical has been conceived and produced by Fred Waring, who has guided the destinies of The Pennsylvanians throughout the past half-century, and now is embarked on the next.

Featured in the company are the perennial favorites, bassos Leonard Kranendonk and Ralph Isbell, and the droll drummer, Poley McClintock, who with Fred Waring comprised half of the original four man band that started The Pennsylvanians' dazzling career more than fifty years ago in their home town of Tyrone, Pennsylvania.

The VA is the largest independent government agency, employing more than 147,000 full-time people, with about 87 per cent assigned to the Department of Medicine and Surgery.

Congressmen Endorse Youth Vote Petition

BURLINGAME — Nineteen California members of Congress have endorsed a statewide initiative petition to put the 18-year-old vote on the ballot, it was announced by the Student California Teachers Association.

Miss Janet Portolan, SCTA Consultant, said the members of Congress responded favorably to an appeal by SCTA and the National Education Association (NEA).

This support, she added, follows by one week the endorsement of the initiative by 32 members of the California State Assembly.

"Although the majority of the State Assembly and Senate are supporting the change, supporters of the vote for young adults have been unable to win the necessary two-thirds majority of the Legislature to sumbit the proposal to the electorate through a referendum.

This year, therefore, our supporters have launched an initiative campaign to bring the issue to a vote in November. Some 523,000 valid signatures must be secured to put the initiative amendment on the ballot," she explained.

"In other Western states — Oregon, Wyoming, Montana, Hawaii and Alaska — the legislatures have already put the issue on the 1970 ballots, but in California we have to take the initiative route. Every President from Roosevelt to Nixon has backed voting for young adults 18 to 21, and both major parties pledge support in their platforms," Miss Portolan stated. "We greatly appreciate the backing of these influential congressmen."

Miss Portolan noted that heading the sponsoring group, called "INVOLVE," are officers of the Young Democrats, Young Republicans and SCTA, with headquarters in San Francisco at 1427 Market st. (626-7410) and in Los Angeles at 1081 Westwood (447-9531).

Members of Congress pledging support include Senator Alan Cranston, along with a bi-partisan group from the House of Representatives including Congressmen Don Clausen, Harold Johnson, John Moss, Phil Burton, Don Edwards, Al Bell, Pete McCloskey, John McFall, Bernard Sisk, Glenn Anderson, James Corman, Gus Hawkins, George Brown, Ed Roybal, Richard Hanna, Lionel Van Deerlin, Tom Rees, and John Tunney.

University Starts Environment Study

The chances that man has of surviving the contamination of his environment and the over population of his planet will be explored in an important Sunday evening seminar-lecture series at the University of California, San Diego.

The series, titled "New Dimensions of Environmental Awareness," will begin at 7 p.m. Sunday, in the Humanities-Library Auditorium on the Revelle College campus at UCSD.

It is being sponsored by the Bureau of Environmental Design, a group made up of UCSD students, faculty and staff who are concerned about the dangers facing the environment.

Bulen Gets Census Post

Former State Assemblyman Edwin Bulen, of San Marcos, has been appointed a district manager of the 1970 Census of Population and Housing. Bulen's assembly district included Lemon Grove and Spring Valley.

His census work, however, will not bring him back here. He will supervise the southern part of Orange county and north and east sections of San Diego county.

Gas Rates Go Up

The San Diego Gas & Electric Company announced that it plans to ask the California Public Utilities Commission for permission to increase gas rates by $5.2 million annually to partially offset a $7 million increase in the cost of gas from its supplier.

The proposed rate increase would amount to approximately 90 cents a month for the average residential gas customer.

Gulls-Rockets Home Saved By Hahn-Boney

It's not very likely that the Gulls nor the Rockets will be dispossessed.

San Diego City manager Walter Hahn proposed to Robert Breitbard, San Diego International Sports Arena owner, aid by way of a proposed city-county joint powers agreement.

Hahn told Breitbard he had conferred with Fred Morey, chief county administrative officer and that he and Morey were ready to recommend to the city council and the county board of supervisors that they form a joint powers agency which would take over the arena's operation.

One of the several conditions, some of which have not been announced, would guarantee that the Gulls and the Rockets would remain at the arena until the year 2000, when the bonds used to finance the building mature.

The agency would not assume any past debts other than the bonds, Hahn said.

Earlier, Hahn had spoken to the regular Tuesday meeting of the Sportscaster-Sportswriters Association at Casa di Baffi in Hillcrest. He said that the city was interested in some relief for the arena but that no such request had been made.

A reporter suggested that the owners may have been waiting for the city to ask for for a meeting.

Board of Supervisor's chairman Henry Boney also spoke at the Sportswriter's luncheon and said he was anxious to see the arena stay in operation. He called a meeting of an arena-study committee for Friday at 9 a.m.

PTA Board Meets, Establishes Priorities

California PTA, Board of Managers, meeting in San Francisco, voted to give priority during 1970 to legislation concerning school finances, tax revision and reform, environmental protection, drug and narcotic use and abuse, and social action bills affecting children and youth.

The Board of Managers has just concluded its bi-monthly three-day meeting, under the leadership of the president, Mrs. Robley Berry, of Kensington.

The PTA will continue to support legislation which:

increases AFDG grants to a realistic level that will provide housing, food, clothing, and other necessary commodities equal to the need;

establishes and maintains treatment and rehabilitation services for narcotic and dangerous drug users; provides for child immunization against communicable disease, with provisions for exceptions for cause;

permits limited multiple adoption of text books (K-8), using the current screening process;

provides school nursing consultant services within the State Department of Education; provides for adult education, with emphasis on parent education and education to strengthen the family.

The California PTA will continue to oppose legislation which:

provides for total financing of local schools by the State;

provides for State adoption of high school text books;

alters student fees or imposes tuition at public institutions of higher education, which would result in loss of equal opportunity for higher education for any student.

DMV Offices Open Saturday

Department of Motor Vehicles offices will be open Saturday morning to offer vehicle registration renewal service, according to DMV director Robert C. Cozens.

"Motorists may obtain their 1970 license plate stickers from 8 a.m. till noon on that date," he said.

Cozens cautioned Californians, who among them own 13 million vehicles, that the last day to renew without penalty for 1970 is Wednesday, February 4. He also issued a reminder that registration renewal counters are open in many neighborhood banks in metropolitan areas during regular banking hours.

Renewal cards and fees may also be mailed to Sacramento DMV headquarters. If postmarked no later than February 4, they will be processed without a late charge being added.

Cozens said anyone who has a difficulty or question in connection with a renewal should not write to Sacramento but take his papers to a local DMV office, where the matter can frequently be straightened out on the spot.

Auto clubs are also good places where members can bring their problems and get their questions answered.

Any vehicle owner who has not received a 1970 renewal notice should take his 1969 registration card to a DMV office, where his renewal fee can quickly be computed.
